

Get Out and Vote

by Rick Dickinson

“The world is a dangerous place” said Albert Einstein, “not because of those who do evil, but because of those who look on and do nothing.”

Democracy is something many of us take for granted. But for far too many people around the world the right to vote remains a foreign concept. In some countries simply speaking out for change could mean risking severe punishment. This is why it is so vital for us to exercise the voices we've been given and to cherish our freedoms.

On October 18th, 2010, we get a great way to celebrate one of our democratic powers: the right to vote. Be sure not to squander this precious liberty! Get informed, find the best representatives for your views and make sure, come election day, you let your voice be heard.